

Facts & Figures 2003

Education Sector

Preface

Facts and Figures on Education describes Sida's development co-operation in the education sector during 2003.

As in previous years the statistics are based on Sida disbursements. The figures from 2003 show a slight decrease in the Education Sector Co-operation's share of Sida's total disbursements, but in real terms Sida's Education Cooperation disbursements have gone up, though only a small amount, compared to the previous year.

The majority of Sida's education cooperation, roughly 60 percent, is administered by the Education Division in the Department for Democracy and Social Development (DESO), in cooperation with Swedish Embassies. The remaining 40 percent is shared between several other departments in Sida. The most prominent among these are the Department for Cooperation with NGOs and Humanitarian Assistance (SEKA) and the Department for Research Cooperation (SAREC).

SAREC support for Higher Education is included in this report. However, this support represents only a fraction of the total SAREC support for Research Development in developing countries.

The Education Division remains committed to transforming education development cooperation from many small education projects or sub-programmes into sector-wide education support. As a result eight countries now have support agreements with Sweden for Education Sector Programmes.

This transformation is affecting our statistics. Some of Sida's education sector programme disbursements now cover the entire sector. Therefore, several of our education disbursements can no longer be attributed to certain subsectors (such as adult literacy) or activities (such as education materials), although these areas may very well receive support as part of a sector programme.

In 2003, new agreements on programme support in the education sector were signed with Namibia, Honduras, Burkina Faso and Afghanistan. One-off extra-ordinary support to Kenya was also signed.

Another important development in education cooperation in 2003 was the Swedish Government's approval of a new Swedish Strategy Framework for UNESCO for 2003 – 2007 called "Working in Partnership with UNESCO". This coincided with the signing of an agreement on support to UNESCO for "Capacity Building for EFA".

Sida has also played an active role in the global initiative "Education For All Fast Track Initiative" (FTI), which aims to help countries attain the Millennium Development Goal of Universal Primary Education by 2015. With the signing of a new agreement on support to the Education Sector Programme in 2003, Honduras became the first country to receive Swedish support within the framework of the Fast Track-initiative.

I hope that the Education Facts and Figures 2003 is a useful source of information in our continued efforts to develop education sector cooperation.

Summary

In 2003 Sida provided SEK 868 million to programmes classified as education programmes. The level of disbursements is roughly the same compared with 2002. Total Sida Education Cooperation represents 8 percent of total Sida Development Cooperation in 2003.

About 61 percent (SEK 535 million) of the SEK 868 million was administrated by DESO/ Education Division and the Swedish Embassies in the partner countries. This amount represents 4.9 percent of Sida total Development Cooperation in 2003, an increase of 0.2 percent from the previous year (4.7 percent).

Primary Education received 51 percent (SEK 449.7 million) of the total Sida Education Cooperation disbursements in 2003. The figure for Primary Education is in fact larger as the General Sector Support to Mali, Rwanda and Namibia contains a part directed to Primary Education. However, the present classification system does not reflect this fact.

The region in the world that received most Education Support was Africa, which received 53 percent of all disbursements for Education.

The ten countries that received the majority of the disbursements were Tanzania, Afghanistan, Kenya, Honduras, Bolivia, Mali, Uganda, Laos, Cambodia, and Ethiopia. For Afghanistan, the disbursements were made from the DESO/Education Division and the Country Programme as well as from the Department for Co-operation with NGOs and Humanitarian Assistance (SEKA). For Uganda, they mainly came from the Department for Research Cooperation (SAREC).

2. Sida Education Cooperation

2.1 An Overview of Swedish Education Co-operation

The overall policy goal of Sida's co-operation in the education sector is to enhance the right to relevant education for all – an education that empowers the poor and the excluded to participate as active and informed citizens in all aspects of development.

Since April 2001 Sida has had a policy for co-operation in the education sector, Education for All – A human right and basic need.

Sida is committed to the six goals in "The framework for Action in Education for All" (EFA), adopted in Dakar in April 2000.

Sida is also strongly committed to the Millennium Development Goals of halving the proportion of people living in extreme poverty by 2015. Two of the targets concern education:

- The achievement of Universal Primary Education by 2015
- The elimination of gender disparity in primary and secondary education by 2005.

The policy emphasises the above goals as necessary building blocks for Sida's support in capacity development, education, training and research.

The policy is based on internationally agreed concepts and goals declared in Human Rights conventions and declarations.

Sida's support for the education sector is always based on partner countries' own education programmes. Basic education and literacy for all children, youth and adults have been a priority of Swedish development co-operation since the mid-1970s.

With the introduction of Sida's education policy, there has been a shift from support for basic education projects or sub-programmes to support for partner countries' education strategies that prioritise basic education for all through a Sector Wide Approach (SWAp).

The main partners in the education sector cooperation are the ministries of education. Other partners are UN agencies and national and international (Swedish) non-governmental organisation.

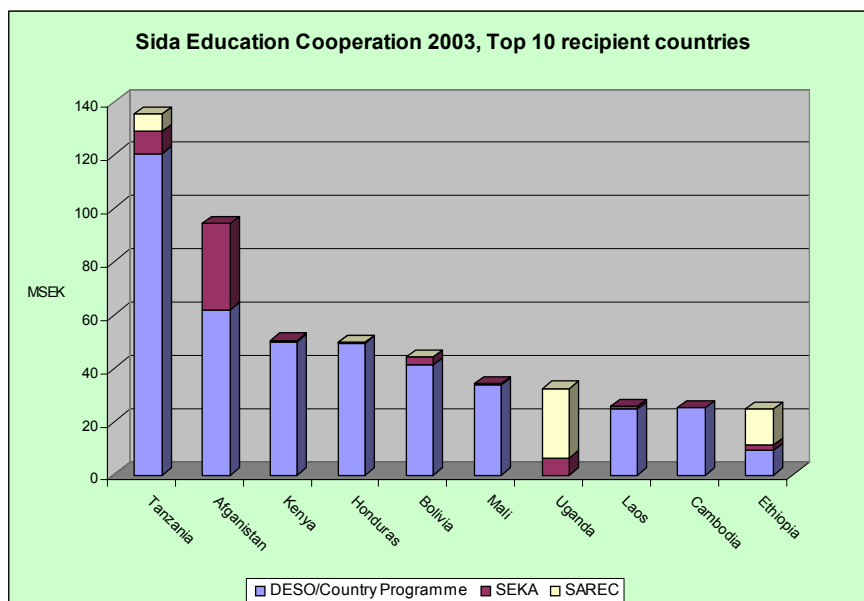

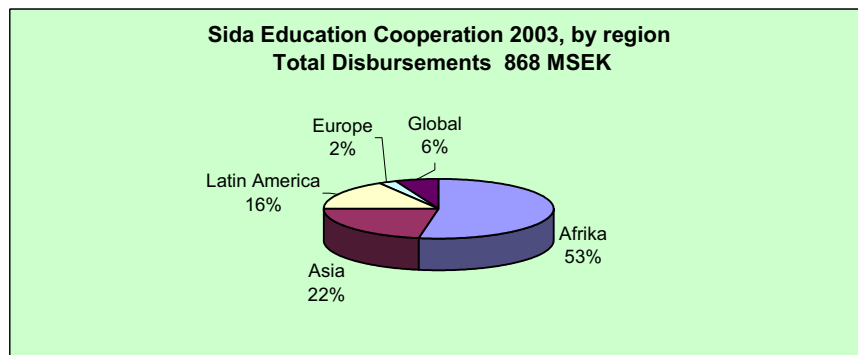

In 2003 Sida provided SEK 868 million for Education Cooperation which is roughly equal to the previous year's disbursement (SEK 863 million).

The Education Development Cooperation was disbursed by the following organisational units at Sida:

- Bilateral (Country Programmes), Regional Programmes and Development Funds received SEK 535 million (up from SEK 491 million in 2002) from the Swedish Embassies in the partner countries and the Education Division at the Department for Democracy and Social Development (DESO).
- Education Development Cooperation through Swedish NGOs and Humanitarian Assistance amounted to SEK 231 million (roughly equal to the previous year's, SEK 237 million) and was administered by the Department for Cooperation with NGOs and Humanitarian Assistance (SEKA).
- Research Cooperation is administered by the Department for Research Cooperation (SAREC). SAREC's total support for Higher Education and Research amounted to SEK 791 million and was distributed for bilateral cooperation and support for regional and global programmes. Bilateral research cooperation is mainly directed at supporting institutions for Higher Education. In 2003 this support amounted to around SEK 240 million. SEK 84 million of this sum is classified as support to Higher Education which is accounted for in this report. The rest is shown under other sector headings.
- Education Development Cooperation with Central and Eastern European Countries amounted to SEK 13 million (up from SEK 7 million in 2002) and was administered by the Department for Central and Eastern Europe, Sida (EUROPE).

2.2 Sida Education Cooperation by Geographical Distribution

Sida's Education Cooperation was during 2003 present in all developing regions of the world. Most support was given to the African Countries which represent 53% (MSEK 457) of total disbursements in 2003. Asian countries was supported by 22% (MSEK 195), Latin America by 16% (MSEK 141) and East and Central Europe by 2% (MSEK 13) of total disbursements in 2003. International organisations were supported by 6% (MSEK 52) out of the total disbursement in 2003.

³ General Education includes Education Policy Support, Technical Assistance to the Ministry of Education etc. and education cooperation not classified under other programme areas. In the case of Mali and Honduras the support goes to the whole Education Sector and is represented here. The total SEKA support through Swedish NGOs is classified as General Education.

2.5 Education Sector Programme Support

Sector Programme Support has become an increasing part of Sida Education Cooperation. In 2003 268.4 MSEK was disbursed to Education Sector Programmes which represents half of total DESO/Country Programmes disbursements. A growing number of countries have reached long-term agreements with Sida on Education Sector Programme Support comprising all sub-sectors of the Education Sector. In some cases, i.e. Tanzania and Bolivia and the support is primarily directed to the Primary Education sub-sector, while in others, i.e. Namibia where the support is partly directed to Higher Education and Mali, Honduras where the support is directed to not only Primary Education but Adult Education and other sub-sectors as well. Mozambique is one of the Education Sector Programme Countries. During 2003, however, no funds were disbursed to Mozambique.
